THE PRESS.

CINCINNATI, WEDNESDAY MAY 11.

The Test of Truth.

A correspondent informs us that, in a discourse delivered on Sunday last, the Rev. Mr. Conway was understood to affirm that strong conviction of the truth of a doctrine existing in the human consciousness is evidence of its truth; and that it is through the impulse of such conviction-amounting, in their minds, to a demonstration-that men become persecutors for its sake; and that he cited he intolerant spirit of the Christian Church in all ages of its existence, in contrast with the tolerance of Paganism. as proving the truth of the doctrine and stability of the faith of the professor in the one case, and the falsehood of the doctrine and the instability of the faith of the professor in the other. Our correspondent thereupon wonders whether we may not adopt persecution as a test of truth-an evidence of Christianity, and assume, at once, that the higher it rages the more pure, just and holy are the doctrines in whose behalf it is enlisted. This would be, if mankind could be induced to adopt it as a rule, an easy way to dispose of a difficult subject; but there are those who take a different, nay, an opposite view of the matter.

The latest writer, and one of the most orthodox, upon the science of human obligation, holds that it is doubt-the want of full conviction-which gives rise to the persecuting spirit. He says:

"When a man begins to see that an old supposed truth is in reality an error, the first impulse is to get angry, and persecute those who have thrown into his mind the light by which the error is discovered. Persecutors are generally men in this mental condition; men who feel the past passing away from them, in spite of the labors of their intelligence and the exercise of their authority. Unable to convince the world of its mistake, and half suspecting the falsehood of their own positions, they, in anger, grasp power. and with it, seek to crush out those new thoughts which are overturning the old order of things, and even disturbing their own serenity of mind."-[Morality and the State, p. 81.

We suppose the distinctive doctrines of Christianity to be, in brief, the best condition of the human race by nature. and the incarnation and sufferings of the Son of God for its recovery. Now these are doctrines to which—as we understand it-Mr. Conway does not subscribe; and yet it is to enforce a belief in them, and others deduced from them, that Christians became persecutors. If persecution is an evidence of belief, belief is also evidence of truth-for men's minds are se constituted that they hold a truth much more strongly than they do an error, but how, in this aspect of the case, can the Reverend gentleman escape the obligations to receive that faith whose history is filled with so many and so signal-we might say so STRIKING-testimonials of its authenticity? And how, on the other hand, can the author of the work quoted above, under the rule which he lays down, excuse himself for his adhesion to Christianity, in the face of the superior claims of Paganism? Among all these learned doctors, who shall decide?

War News.

The sum and substance of the war news by the last arrivals is that there is, as yet, no war: the rest is simply conjecture -a bundle of worthless rumors with which the telegraph cheats those who look for intelligence. The Austrian troops are passing the Ticino - the Austrian troops have passed the Ticino-later, the Austrian troops passed the Ticino in three divisions and took the road to Novara - still later: the Austrian troops have not passed the Ticino. France has entered into an alliance with Russia-the Russio-French alliance has changed in a moment the aspect of continental affairs -Intest, France has made no treaty of alliance with Russia. Hostilities are about to commence-Austria has accepted the mediation of England, and postponed the declaration of war - Austria has called on Piedmont to disband its army in three days, or hostilities will commence.

The extent of our knowledge is, that war either has or has not broken outthat Austria either has or has not crossed the Ticino-that France either has or has not entered into an alliance with Russia - that Austria either has or has not accepted the mediation of England -that the story of the Austrian ultimatum is either true or false; and there is a strong probability that the statements and rumors as yet uncontradicted are, the most of them, equally reliable with those which are accompanied by that which proves them to be untrue.

HOME INTERESTS.

Clonks and Mantillas .- As and exclusive business, Mr. George Lawis was the pioneer in the production of Glosan and Muntillas in this city, and at the present time he has a very large establishment, independent of any other house, at 92 West Fourth street, directly opposite the Post-office. Mr. LEWIS gives employment to from seventy-five to one hundred girls in the manufacture of Cloaks and Mantillas, and the business is conducted in such a systematic manner that he is out of the reach of competition. Five stories of his large store are all occupied.

The first floor is the salesroom, in the rear of which is a dress-fitting boudoir, complete in all its appointments, and if necessary can cut and make a dress in the short space of six hours. Wedding, party, and mourning dresses made for customers in a few hours notice. All kind of mourning goods are kept on hand, and a better selection of dress trimmings can not be found in the city. Mr. L. is about to fit up an extensive gymnasium in the fifth story, for the benefit of the females in his employ-a praiseworthy feature, and one that will repay the investment. The second and third stories are fitted up for show and salesrooms, and the the manufactory is in the fourth story. This is one of the most important establishments in the city, and we call attention to the advertisement in another place.

Dry Goods-One of the largest and most flourishing establishments in the city, is that of Messrs. Cole & HOPKINS, successors to Gao. M. Wood, on the North-east corner of Vine and Fifth streets. The store next east, adjoining, has recently been added to the establishment, making a very large salesroom, and the whole building has been refitted and put in order. Their stock now embraces almost every thing in the dry goods line, and that good bargains are offered, is evident from the numerous customers which throng the premises daily. Ladies in want of dress silks, (and where is there one that is not,) can here find a superb stock, as well as every thing in the line of dress goods. They have just opened an immense stock of French dress goods, robes, mantillas, shawls, parasols, fans, etc., and purchasers would do well to give them a call.

Millinery Goods .- The Emporium of Millinery Goods of the MISSES BAIRD, at 118 West Fourth street, is one of the largest west of New York, and a better arranged establishment can not be found in America. In our edition of the 4th ult., we gave a column article, descriptive of their store, and those of our readers who keep files of the "Press" would no doubt be benefitted by reading the same. Even a whole column is insufficient to enumerate the different articles they keep for sale, and a whole page might be covered with fine type in describing their goods, without hardly doing justice to the subject; but we will only say, read their advertisement and then take your porte-monnaie and visit their rooms.

Injunction Granted .- The Superior Court of New York has granted the injunction prayed for by Joseph Burnett & Co., of Boston, against Phalon & Sons, of New York restraining the latter from the use of the trade mark of the former in the manufacture and sale of "Cocoaine." This is a righteous decision and we congratulate Burnett & Co. upon the issue of this suit. By their skill and enterprise they have established the good name o their preparation for the bair, and were justly entitled to the sale thereof in all parts of the country. It was mean to undertake the sale o another article, with a name so similar the the imposition would mislead the public .- Bos ton Transcript, Mag 4.

More Novelty in the Theatrical WORLD .- The Rev. J. KELSO, author of "Dunger in the Dark," "Winged Chariot," &c., hawritten a Tragedy, which will be produced a Wood's THEATER, next Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Assistant Stage Manager. Mr. O. C. BRYANT, whose arducus labors in his profession, during his three years residence is our city, give him a claim to a liberal patronage from our theatre-going citizens.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of REDMAN & DURANDO. Merchant Tailors, 137 Main street, Mr. Ren. MAN was for five years at No. I Burnet House and his work is known to be equal to the best in his line. He has now a large stock of cloths and ready-made summer clothing, and we advise all our friends to visit his superb estab lishment before purchasing.

The Sickles' Trial is a curious book and one would suppose that it was of the kin that sells well, judging from the advertisemenof it, in another column.

For Wedding and Visiting Cards, go to Hall's, No 14 West Fourth street; also for fine English and French Note Paper and Envelopes.

One of the best Picture Establish nents in the city is at 120 West Fourth street. BALL & THOMAS, the proprietors, are celebrated artists.

Handsome Pictures are taken by Win-DER, whose rooms are on Western Row, opposite Court street.

Harlan & Wilson, No. 30 West Fourth street, pay particular attention to the Photographic art. Call at their rooms and examine or yourselves.

Applegate's Broadway Gallery of Art is noted for its fine specimens of Sun pictures. and a good likeness may be procured here for a quarter of a dollar.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK IN NEW YORK .- The Fifteenth Anniversary of the "Protestant Episcopal Church Missionary Society for Sea-men in the city and port of New York," was held at Dr. Tyng's Church, last evening The Report of the Board of Managers repre sents the condition of the Society as prosper ous and their labors successful. A discourse was delivered by the Rev. Samuel Cooke, D

D., and a collection was taken up.

The anniversary services of the Female Guardian Society and home for the Friendless were held last evening in Dr. Parker Church, on Fourth avenue. Addresses wer made by the Rev. Dr. Hague, the Rev. Dr. Asa D. Smith, and others. It was stated that the Society was sorely at a loss for funds, and the speakers appealed urgently for aid. A handsome sum was contributed. The American Baptist Free Mission Society is celebrating its Sixteenth Anniversary at Metropolitan Hall, Jersey City. The Society organized Saturday, elected officers for the ensuing year, considered its annual report, and listened to addresses from the President. the Rev. A. L. Post, of Pennsylvania, and others, and a sermon by the Rev. Joseph M. Sawyer, of Vt.

merchants. Whatever he indorses must be of sterling value. It is well worth reading:

Cincinnati, February 13, 1859.

About a month ago I called at Dr. Ayer's "Throa and Lung Institute," 30 West Fourth street, for treatment for Tonsilitis and Chronic Inflammation of the Throat. The tonsils and uvula (or palate) were smuch enlarged that there seemed to be but one course to pursue, and that was to cut them off; this I habeen told by other physicians, who had also candidited the they could not cure me. Dr. Ayer made careful examination and pronounced excision unnecessary, and prescribed Medicated Inhalation and to ical applications, with general treatment, and the result is a printed Medicated Inhalation and to ical applications, with general treatment, and the result is a printed Medicated Inhalation and the boen aliayed, and the tonsils and palate reduced their natural size and position. I now have no sore uses or difficulty whatever of the throat, and Frethal I am now praperty wall.

I confidence. His mode of treatment is rational, pleas ant, and certainly in my case successful, and I have every reason to believe the Doctor is equally successful in all other cases while I have been under treatment at the Institute.

miles distant, and furnishes in great abundance several kinds of excellent Coal, at low prices.

For the last eighteen months the commerce and industry of the country have been paralyzed, and many persons thrown out of Employment. We call the attention of these and all others who wish to establish themselves in a home, with a steady and profitable employment, to the great advantage of our village, and of a Commercial and Murual Aid Association. Our plan is one of entire freedom and independence of each member, in his particular trade or employment; with aid from the Association to procure his materials, and sell his surplus products in the best markets. Several families have already commenced on this plan.

A clear title will be given for the property sold, and it is at the option of the purchaser to join the Company or not as he may deem best. Suitable buildings, if erected soon, can be rented for at least 12 per cent, on their cost. Attendance will be given and terms fully stated on the day of sale, by four years terms more faily made known on the day of sale.

Public Sale on the Ground, -0F-

Chillicothe, Ross County, Ohio. Commencing on Tuesday,

North Chillicothe is situated at the intersection of the Ohio Canal, with the Marietta and Cincinnati Italirand, where a Freight Station is about being established, loss than a quarter of a mile from the city of Chillicothe, which contained in 1831 about 6,300 inhabitants; since the completion of the Railroad the population has doubled.

The site is in the rich and beautiful Valley of the Scioto, where the means of living are cheap and abundant. The facilities at this point for trade and mannafactures are such as are rarely found united. It is is connected by Navigation and Railroad with all the great centers of trade, from New York to New Orleans, including Cincinnati, St. Louis, and all the West and South-west. The great Coal region of Ohio, traversed by both the Railroad and Canal, is less than thirty miles distant, and furnishes in great abundance several kinds of excellent Coal, at low prices.
